“ Deanna Fregapane - Friend of a Friend posted a condolence I didn't know you to well. I met you in high school a few times.I know that you will be sadly missed by all that you left behind,and I believe that you are in a place where you can be at peace now and be with the ones you lost before.Continue looking down on your love ones and let them know everyonce in awhile that you are okay.God bless you and everyone you left.We will miss you

“ Doug - Father of a Friend posted a condolence I knew you as my daughter's friend, the plastic cow riding bowling instructee, that I ferried around from time to time. I've recently learned how many people you touched and how much love there is for you. I'm not at all surprised that this is the case. I'm just sorry your demons prevented you from knowing it too. I never knew you well, but I'm glad I knew you a little. Shed your pain now and gain some peace, then rest. Perhaps our paths will cross again in another lifetime.

“ Holly Aday - friend's Mom posted a condolence I am glad that Heather could count you among her friends - and that I had the chance to know you. We may see this as a parting; but, for you, this is a joining with those who have gone before. May you find peace in this new beginning + faith in the possibilities. We'll cherish memories made richer for your sharing of them. See you later!
